

Levar Fisher

Youth Introduction

Levar Fisher is not your ordinary speaker. If you are expecting to hear how Levar was this straight “A” kid growing up that never did anything wrong and made it to the NFL without a hitch...then you are going to be surprised.

Levar is a winner...not because he didn’t make mistakes growing up...but, because he did make them. The difference is that he learned what to do with those mistakes. I’ll let Levar tell you about that, but here’s what you need to know about him:

Levar grew up in a small eastern North Carolina town as a kid without a lot to do or a plan for the future. Football became his passion in high school – and that passion took him to NC State University on a full football scholarship to play for the Wolfpack. There, Levar quickly made a name for himself as the best defensive player in the country...several years in a row.

In 2002, the star Wolfpacker was drafted by the Arizona Cardinals – Levar made it to the NFL. In 2006, Levar joined the New Orleans Saints, where his NFL career ended with a devastating knee injury.

For the last few years, Levar has been bringing his “A” game to schools, camps, and locker rooms, inspiring over 800,000 and receiving praise from every corner of the country. In January of this year, he launched his Believe Again 2010, Tour aimed at helping youth to get past mistakes and negative events and believe again in their own power to create a good future.

It’s time now to turn the stage over to the man who has become more than a pro – let’s welcome Levar Fisher.
